“ We only met Brittany briefly. The loss of one so young is great. Her beauty and intelligence will live on forever in our memory. Take Care. Denise & Michael

October 27, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ My dear Brittany, When your mother remained @ home to tend to Sammy, I made sure I supported her and got you to & from your band concerts. When my daughter was ""too busy"" to sit with me...YOU sought me out and sat with me (as it was important to you to make me feel important). You made me feel like a princess! I truly loved you, my little angel, your smile so bright and your giggle so lovely! You were the light of your mother's life. She talked about you each & every day! Oh how we laughed about Corey asking you if your prom date really existed. That kid got the biggest kick out of you. My family is so blessed to have known you and I promise to continue to watch over your mother and keep her strong.

“ Although I have never met Brittany, I am very saddened by her death. To her family: I am very sorry for your loss. You are in my thoughts and prayers.

October 25, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ I lost my brother at a young age in a tragic accident and I know the pain you feel. Being the mother of two teenage sons I can't imagine that loss. But know that God wanted our brothers/sisters/daughters and sons for a purpose. One that we don't know of yet. Time will help you to live with the loss, to be able to smile and laugh again. May your daughter shine upon you everyday and bring you the strength to find the answers to your questions. When there is a rainbow, know that she is shining on you and bringing you the warmth that you need to make the day brighter.

October 25, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ I am a sixty-six year old father who did not know any of these young ladies nor their families; but want to extend my deep and heart-felt sympathy to all who knew and loved them!! I too lost my beloved son at age twenty-two. My only comfort is knowing that he is with the Heavenly Father, and I know that these three wonderful young ladies are now with Him also. May God grant them eternal peace! R.C. Wayne

October 25, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ Our thoughts are with you. God bless you and keep you.

October 25, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ I didn't have the opportunity to ever meet Brittany, but from what I've read, she was an outstanding young woman, her parents should be very proud of her. I have a young daughter and these three young girls are inspirations that I hope my young daughter will become. To her family-- my heartfelt condolences go out to you in this tough time, She is walking with the angels and God now and will watch & bless each of you every day! God Bless!

October 24, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ So very sorry to hear of your loss. My thoughts and prayers are with her family. I wish there was something I could say to help the pain, I too lost 2 children in accidents. My one son was also 17. God Bless.

October 24, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ Brittany, Dear! can still see you sitting on the sofa and teasing Collin, for playing with Sammy's baby toys. Your smile and joy that you brought into all our lifes, will always be remembered. I do believe you are with your grandmother and you both are happy and smiling down on the rest of us. Love to all your family and friends.

October 24, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ My prayers are with your family at this tragic time. May God hold you close and give you the strength to heal.

October 23, 2004 at 12:00 AM

“ I had Brittany in pre-school class at Little Learners. I used to braid her hair. I thought that it was so beautiful and that she looked so much like her mother...Bridget. I knew her dad David when we worked at Community Hospital together. When I realized that he was Brittany's dad I knew she was a lucky girl. God Bless you Brittany...I know that the short life that you had was a wonderful one and that your brought much joy to all the lives that you have touched...
