“ Hi grandpa, you left us and went to be with god sunday morning. I tried to get there to say good bye before you left us as well as mom did too, but we missed you by just a few short minutes. Such a hard time you had towards the end of your final days. But you know what? Your all better now and your with grandma now. I know how hard it was for you to see her go and how much you missed her. But you hung in there and stayed with us for just a short time but we charished every moment. Im sure grandma was waiting for you with open arms as Im sure she missed you every bit as you missed her. You both are whole and perfect now, back together as one. Say hello to my dad for us as we miss him ever bit as much. You take care and we love you and miss you very much. Amber says ""hi pampa"". God bless you and keep you, until we meet again.
