“ I only called once a few weeks ago to introduce myself and before I could begin I had to compliment her on how pleasant and upbeat she sounded. I was so impressed to be greeted so cheerfully. I will never forget that call. I wish peace and love to all the family.

“ There are no words that can express the love I have for you or the appreciation for everything you have done for our family and especially for me. Your love has been unwavering throughout my life through the good times and the bad, never once judging me when I was at my lowest but instead being my cheerleader and having the confidence in me each and every time. I could always count on you to be frank and honest, a teacher and most importantly a friend when I needed one. Though life at times was busy and we did not see each other often your love, pride and guidance was always with me. Not many people are blessed with such a beautiful woman as their grandmother but I was blessed by god above to have you as mine. Your life will never be forgotten and your legacy will live on forever as you have touch so many lives. Even though you are not with us physically any longer your love and what you have taught us will never be gone. Until we meet again please know I love you more than you will ever know and what you have done for me throughout my life I will be forever thankful. I am so proud to call you my grandmother and I love you deeply forever.

“ There is no greater love in the world than that unselfishly provided by a mother to her children. You where there for me and helped me through the bad times, sick times and my troubled times. You where there to help guide me grow, heal and excel. You provided me with love, happiness and true friendship. Though I can no longer pick up a phone and call or stop by for a visit, I know you are still with me because I can feel your love in my heart every day. Mom, I will still talk with you every day, I will still share my good times and bad times with you and be comforted as you will always be there with me in my heart and in my mind.

“ To a loving wife, mother, grandmother and great mother. A woman who gave her heart and love to us all. Mom you will be greatly missed. Thank you for all you have given us with your support and love that expanded beyond your immediate family. Thank you for the love, companionship, and care you gave to the man you loved so dearly. You are a guiding light to us all. When times were dark, you lightened our way. You gave us hope in times of adversity. I pray you can keep your promise to me of being my guardian angel forever. I love you mom and miss you deeply.

“ Where do you begin to express the love and admiration you have for a woman who touched your heart and soul every day of your life from the very beginning? It is an absolute fact that I am blessed by god himself to be the granddaughter of this truly remarkable, beautiful woman. I am blessed to have so many wonderful memories of time we spent together. Amazing vacations, EVERY single birthday, EVERY holiday, and cherished quiet times just the two of us. Thank you grandma, for the honor of being the granddaughter of the most amazing, selfless, woman, YOU! You are in my heart always, and I carry your love for me and mine for you every day of my life! I love you to my soul.

Love always and forever,
Your granddaughter
Kimberly
