“ Gene was my brother's father-in-law. He would always share his love for fishing .I can remember him sharing his catch of the week with my parents. He taught my nephews how to fish ,which taught them to have patience. Sorry for your loss.

“ This man was very good to me when I was a nervous college student in a big city for the first time. He was a straight shooter and always called me on my crap if I got out of hand. Love you Gene
