“ So sorry to here about Gene. He was a fun loving guy that didn't have a mean bone in his body. My favorite Gene Park story is about him passing a lady on the road while driving a car, the punchline being, he was in grade school at the time. The last time I had a real conversation with him was about 30 years ago at the Lakeside Tavern. He talked about being a steel worker and I could tell from the conversation, that he was very good at what he did (without him saying so)and he was proud of it. That's the way I'm going to remember him.

“ At seventeen years old or so, Gene and a group of us hopped into an open bed truck - I think that Nathan drove - and we chased a really wild rainstorm from one side of Otisco to the other. We drove through high water, jumped in it, and ran through it. It was exhilarating and wonderful. I will remember Gene as outdoors and happy. Please accept my condolences and that you are in my thoughts.
