“ Mothers-in-law! I had the Queen Mother-in-law. The one who put all the others to shame. She treated me just like her daughter. I am precious, and wonderful and can do no wrong. Makes you sick doesn't it? But I am quite serious. She told me how wonderful I was - week in and week out, without fail. Mom didn't always have a good life. The survivor of several tragedies, but she rarely showed any unhappiness. She was that kind of person. Always a good word for everyone. Always the epitome of good-naturedness - kind of an Edith Bunker in temperament. But lest you think she was a dingbat, know that this woman knew more about humanities than most college graduates. She was no stereotypical 'mother-in-law'. She absorbed knowledge like a sponge and spread it as freely as she did her smile. We never, and I do mean never, had an argument. She was never angry with me, nor I with her. Over the more than 40 years that I knew her, she had shared with me the most important people and times of her life and some of her innermost thoughts. She gave me a lot over those years - her unqualified support, her love, and best of all, one of her proudest accomplishments, her son, Tom. She said I had done much the same for her by giving her four more children, namely her wonderful grandchildren, Tommy, Carol, Kelly & Colleen and their spouses Missy, Mike & Charlie. Also the little wonders of her life that made her so happy, her seven great-grandchildren - Brandi, Anthony, Sinead, Sarah, Krista, Vincent, and Mairead - who all loved her unquestionably and brought the biggest smiles to her face. I may not be all that wonderful, but I hope that as she looks down on us from heaven she continues to think so. And so I think of her today, with a grateful and thankful heart as I call her, "Mom". I love you so very dearly. Sandy
