

Kim Corbine

December 6, 1966 - July 18, 2015

Kim (don't call me Kimberly), lived her life meeting and talking with everyone possible, as if each new acquaintance was her next best friend. Always living life with a childlike excitement for each day and surprises it would bring, Kim loved people. Despite living her life in a seemingly penniless fashion, she would be the first to willingly give up her last penny to someone she felt more needy or if she felt that penny would bring joy to their life. She always found a way to give Birthday and Christmas gifts to her family. All adults should be so giving and joyful. Her legacy and lesson of life was her joy of people, all people, and in the simple pleasures the world offered. More likely than not, Kim would be seen with earplugs in, singing along to a Broadway CD as though the stage was her own. She loved music. The memories of Kim should be of her sincere and heartfelt joy of people. Kim was proud of her siblings and niece and nephews. She would light up when speaking of them. She lived her life from her heart and that is the lesson of love she has left us all.

Kim is survived by her mother Susan R. Barduhn of Camillus, her sister, Kelly Corbine of Marcellus. Her brother John (Tina) Barduhn of Toronto. She is also survived by her Uncle John and Aunt Sally Cook as well as her nephews, Casey and Kody and her niece Kiley. She was predeceased by her father, David M. Corbine.

Services and burial will be private.
