“Whenever our sons had a project to work on, whether is was helping renovate our house or build a potato gun you were there for wisdom and expert advice! We had some laughs and fun times at Tully football games. Your legacy is strong and will endure in your kids and sweet but tough grand daughters.

Larry half conned me into being our sons Cub Scout den co leader along with a total stranger (at the time) by saying I'll help but I would kill the little shots if I had to do it! He kept his word and helped us in many projects and even was brave/stupid enough to teach the boys about power tools in his shop. He roared like a lion but was actually more of a house cat-with a huge heart. Will miss his distinct style....

Every once in a while in life, (if you're lucky), you get to know someone like Larry. I had worked on many construction jobs with him when I was working at Falso Airtrol . Larry was an absolute joy to have on the job site. I was saddened to hear of his passing. Tom Reed
