We've only known Mark through the eyes of his daughter. But from the stories she's shared, it's clear he must have been a good man to be loved so much.

Maureen, Andrew, Erin, and Victoria, I am still in shock over Mark's death. We were good neighbors for many, many years, and I always felt safe with you guys living in back of me. Mark was there if I needed help with something, and he was a very good friend, as all of you were. I saw the kids grow up and I was sad when I moved to Georgia, to leave our beautiful area on North Road. Godspeed Mark. God evidently needed you in Heaven. Lord knows you were a compassionate and wonderful friend to all who knew you. Cheryl
