“ Uncle Paul was known to many people in a variety of ways. To his immediate family he was a loving husband, a devoted father, a proud grandfather. His extended family knew him as a son, brother, uncle, and cousin. His friends and acquaintances knew him as a great friend, Mr. PP or the guy who drove around with a bright orange broom sticking out of his truck. He was the guy with a joke and the one with the laugh that would fill the room. Whether he was sitting in a boat or standing on a bank fishing or dressed in camouflage hiding in the woods just wishing, He will always be remembered as the smiling gentle giant. We will all dearly miss Uncle Paul and our heart filled sorrow extend to Penny, Neil, Ruth, Melissa and Samantha. We love you all.
