“ To my dear friend "Bob". I will never forget all the good times we shared for many years. The gun shows "Vic's" place where I first met you, "Rays" auctions with my son, the knowledge you possessed, your stories and your sense of humor will never be forgotten. I will just smile and laugh to myself when I think of you. Now you grab your B.A.R. and hold that line soldier..." Old soldiers never die, they just fade away", but "Bob" I know you, like my father you, will always be around. It was to me, an honor to know you and to be your friend. Bob, rest in peace, I miss you already. Best Friends Always, Franz Stolar

“ One of the most memorable time in my life was working with Bobbie at Thompson's. He had a wonderful sense of humor that really made working fun. Even though I have not seen him in a number of years, I think of him quite often. God bless you Bobbie.
