“ I just wanted to express my condolences to Truman and his family....I wanted to let everyone what he meant to me....He was a definitely a child of God and genuinely loved everyone....it was this last Christmas was the last time we physically.saw.each other at his parents house and we indeed enjoyed each other's company...Truman set the example in his voice through preaching and singing on how we as Christians should love and forgive one another...I hope he will forgive me for not being present at his home going....I just didn't want to remember him in this way....He is a dear, loving, and loyal friend...His love will always be remembered ...now in he's in much better place, standing besides our Heavenly Father who will forevermore continue to sing to us....I love you always my friend....rest in peace.

“ A true angel has gained his wings. Truman, you have gone from labor to reward. You preached the gospel, went in the highways and byways and compelled people to come to Christ. You loved all regardless of flaws. Take your rest cousin. Your morning has come even though we didn't want it to come. Praying for my family. God give them strength to endure and peace that passes man understanding.

“ To the family of the late Robert N. Atkins, I was at first at a loss for words. This young man was an inspiration to all and I pray all of your hearts will be comforted. The word of GOD says, Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. I pray your tears will turn to smiles. Remember the good times, and know this young man knew Jesus for himself! I can imagine him singing now, When I see Jesus! He has beheld the fathers face! May GOD continue to hold the family together. I am praying for you and will see you later this month.
