“ I am a social worker that worked with Ron for many years at an outpatient clinic. I retired in June, 2008. I will miss his lectures on geography and history. He was a bright man and could be quite interesting. I respected the way he coped with his various stressors. I also respected his deeply-felt religious views. His church (and the support he received there) was very important to him. I will miss him and I wish him the best for all eternity.

“ A very bright and friendly person who should of been liked by all. He was an achiever all the way as well as honor student at MH Rosary. Life played out, seems strange at times. Being there for him was caring for Gods people and he will be missed and not alone.

“ At MHR Ron was known as ""Frenchy"" and considered to be our resident genius. He would walk home every day with a giant leather satchel balanced on his head. We thought - that's how gets to be so smart! I knew I would never be as smart as Frenchy but after observing him at OLL I know too that I'll never have the ability to demonstrate my faith the way he did. He will be well rewarded with eternal life.
