“ Well Hello there! Just wanted to tell you that I have been thinking of you. I drive past the accident sight everyday....twice a day on my way to work. I say hello to you and your cousin and friend EVERY time I pass. I turned on HOT107.9 on a whim and, as I was passing, the thought popped into my mind...I like this song. (Actully, I'm more of a country listener...and so this took me by surprise) I just knew that you were there and were telling me that you liked the song. I pray for you and your family and am excited for the day that I will meet you again! Goodnight little angel! - Love You! :) Erin

“ It has almost been 2 long years since your death. I think of you every single day of my life. That day is still so vividly in my mind every day. You should be finishing your first year of college now and be HOME with your family. I still just cannot believe that this has happened to you !!! Your whole family will always have an empty space in their heart and in their lives without you. We have to move on, because we DO, but we want you !! I have a beautiful baby now, to me, he is a blessing to us from you, especially for our Mom. He reminds me ALOT of you, if only he were a girl he would look just like you. I don't know, nor never will, but I REALLY hope that you can look down and watch all of us. We miss you sooooo much and LOVE YOU TO PIECES !!!!!
